

Bird

is a flat, sandy coral island, 1500 metres in length and 650 wide, and lies approx. 100 km north-west of Mahé. It can be reached in 30 minutes by plane. Its name derives from the spectacular colony of marine birds (two million sea swallows Sterna Fuscata Nubilosa, as well as many other species of rare birds), that inhabits the island from April to October. Mondial model for eco-tourism. Esmeralda, a giant turtle, over 200 years old, included in the Guinness Book of Records for its longevity, lives here. First class hotel composed of 25 spacious bungalows, surrounded by rich vegetation.
