

Sainte Anne

is a granitic island situated in the middle of the National Marine Park, a few minutes away from Mahé. Opened in 1973, the park was one of the first national marine parks in the Indian Ocean and is very much visited, for it protects over 150 species of fish.

The island has a surface of approx. 2 sq km. Luxury hotel, composed of 82 elegant villas, totally integrated in the lush vegetation, following the natural contours of the island. All comforts.

