

Seychelles by Night

Music and dance are among the most important expressions of the local culture. Almost all the hotels in the Seychelles offer evening entertainment with traditional music and dance, but it is not unusual to come upon performances improvised by the local people on the beach or on the occasion of marriages or feasts.

Among the traditional musical instruments we find drums, zithers and bow instruments of African origin. The most common dances are the "moutia", which is danced by the light of the moon, around a bonfire, the "segà", where the partners face each other with sensual movements, and the contredanse, or French quadrille, directed by the master of ceremonies. The waltz, polka and mazurka are also quite common.

Rock, pop and the popular music of the most recent hit-parade are offered in the local discos.
